San Diego film to screen at the UNITED NATIONS!

Documentary Leading The Way To Peace will screen at the 52nd session of the Commission on the Status of Women (CSW) at THE UNITED NATIONS! A HUGE honor for the small local production company, Sun & Moon Vision Productions!

Sun & Moon Vision Production films are reaching policy-makers who are at the highest decision making levels on behalf of women around the world!

What: Leading the Way to Peace - Stories of four seemingly ordinary women (students, mothers, daughters, teachers, , artists, business women) of different ages, different religions and different cultural backgrounds, who rise up and take daring, non-violent stands and action in times of war and post-conflict resolution. In one-way or another, they are all working toward the same goals: peaceful communities, gender equality and human dignity,.. so that we all benefit.

When: February 27th, 2008, at 3:00 p.m.

Where: Dag Hammarskjöld Library Auditorium at the UNITED NATIONS Secretariat in New York (event 735).

More about Leading the Way to Peace: History is recorded from women's perspectives in this inspiring documentary film, Leading the Way to Peace. The film features women from the conflict affected countries of Sierra Leone, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, and Guatemala, tracing their personal stories of peacemaking, courage, and hope.

Leading the Way to Peace is the first documentary in the Women Leading the Way to Peace Documentary Series, which is produced in collaboration with the Joan B. Kroc Institute for Peace & Justice's Women PeaceMakers Program, at the University of San Diego.
